

David Daniel

As a graduate of USC's Ross Program in Real Estate and a licensed real estate broker, David is an expert at finding bridge loans for real estate development and construction projects. David's residential lending division recently teamed with Land Home Financial Services, Inc., a nationwide mortgage bank that is approved for FHA/VA/USDA loan programs.

David has an extensive background in technology and music. He is presently developing software that helps real estate industry professionals manage their processes. Prior to founding GDCLB, a funding solutions firm for small developers, David held several product management positions at Silicon Valley companies including Starlight Networks (inventors of IP-network video), Playback Media Corporation and Montage Systems, Inc. In former positions at ATT/Pacific Bell David was deeply involved in the design and development of electronic messaging products. With ATT's Advanced Video Services team David had primary responsibility for creating new applications for Bell products serving the Entertainment industry.

David has also:

Managed development and release of multiple releases of PictureTel Corporation's eVideo Application Server (eVAS), whose first shipments fulfilled over $1 million in backorders.

Managed software development teams and developed new applications for Pacific Bell's data communications, video networking products and video conferencing billing and rating systems. He also made significant contributions to the design of Pacific Bell Media Park the first networked multimedia production environment.

David's career in the entertainment industry spans 35 years. As an accomplished bassist he has associated with many top artists including, Curtis Mayfield, George Benson, Randy Crawford, jazz masters Joe Williams, Jon Hendricks; and many entertainment legends including The Nicholas Brothers, Patti LaBelle, Glen Turman, Marilyn McCoo and Billy Davis Jr., Ike & Tina Turner, Diane Reeves, and Eartha Kitt. As a performer and producer David has recorded albums, soundtracks, videos and voice-overs. His theatrical credits include several Broadway shows such as Ain't Misbehavin', Ma Rainey's Black Bottom and Sophisticated Ladies. David also composed the scores for two original regional theater works "The Hell With Pushin'" and "Rock Fantasy".
